> Regarding my comment #2 in my previous email... May I suggest the following edit to the DRAFT MOU:

> Section 2.3 of the most recent draft. Add the following to the end of this section:

> Notwithstanding the final decision of the JIC regarding the > appropriate drafting body of any particular proposed standard, no draft > standard, either dealing with reliability or business and communication > practices, that provides for the mandatory provision of products, > services, or the implementation of operational practice will be considered > final unless that standard explicitly deals with the complementary > requirement for fair compensation for such products, services, and > operational practices.
